Henri Bernstein, the brilliant young author of "The Thief," which plays here next Monday, Oct. 26th, is the leading dramatic writer of the French theatre and one of the most commanding figures among modern playwrights. The author of other plays of ingenious plot and finished workmanship, it remained for "The Thief" to secure for Bernstein his most emphatic success. With an original plot, developed with remarkable adroitness, creating an intense and anxious suspense that is maintained unbroken till the very end, "The Thief" ranks with the best of the few masterpieces of the modern theatre and entitles its author to the highest place in his art.

Where Bullets Flew.

David Parker of Fayette, N. Y., a veteran of the Civil war, who lost a foot at Gettysburg, says: "The good Electric Bitters have done is worth more than five hundred dollars to me. I spent much money doctoring for a bad case of stomach trouble, to little purpose. I then tried Electric Bitters, and they cured me. I now take them as a tonic, and they keep me strong and well." 50c at Red Cross Pharmacy, Rickert & Wells' drug store.

Our county fish and game warden, J. E. Pike, received word from State Commissioner H. G. Thomas of Stowe, to the effect that the usual open season for hunting deer has been called off for the present, on account of the woods being so very dry. This is done to prevent the spread of the dreaded forest fires in our state. It is left with Governor Prouty to determine the date of an open season, which depends solely on the rainfall, which everyone is watching for so anxiously.

If you feed your coal to the flame in a heap this way you waste half of its heat giving power. In every other stove you must feed the coal that way unless you lift out the lids and cross-sections. In the you need not lift out anything. You need but raise the hinged plate and feed your coal to the flame evenly, this way. Then you will have the full heat power of your coal, to say nothing of the economy and the convenience.

There are eighteen other good reasons why you should buy the Crown Acorn.

The funeral ceremonies of Peter Gauthier, who died Tuesday from the effects of a paralytic shock, were held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at his late home on Ridge street. The funeral was attended by many members of Brooks Post of which the deceased was a member and floral tributes were also tendered by this organization. On account of a special request of the deceased, the funeral was conducted by Rev. J. Edward Wright assisted by Rev. Purin of Waterbury. The bearers were George Felt, L. S. Goodwin, Capt. L. M. Hutchinson and Col. J. H. Lucia. The interment was made in Green Mount cemetery.

An interesting development of the assault upon G. B. Evans of Waterbury on Monday evening, as a result of which Fred Strong is confined in the county jail to await the action of the court, is the fact that it has become necessary for the jail authorities to administer morphine to the prisoner in order to quiet him. Strong is a confirmed morphine fiend and when the craving for the drug comes on, he will commit any crime, even murder to obtain a supply of it to satisfy his desire.

Few people are aware of the fact that the Montpelier public schools file and run corps consisting of forty members, holds the distinction of being the third largest corps in the United States, Denver, Chicago, Montpelier, is the way the schools rank and this city is justly proud of the youngsters in their natty green uniforms. Harold Smith is captain of the corps and William Bartlett a student of the high school, is leader. Young Bartlett has already composed music for the organization and is doing good work in this direction.

The annual meeting and banquet of the Vermont Fish and Game league will be held at the armory in Montpelier November 18. These pictures have been shown in Philadelphia where they received highest praise. Dwight W. Huntington, author of "Our Feathered Game," will give an address as will other equally interesting speakers. The banquet will be the most elaborate ever served the league and will be under the direction of a Boston chef. The menu will include moose, deer, bear and other wild game.
